Preface

Legal Services of New Jersey (LSNJ) coordinates the statewide Legal Services system in New Jersey, providing free legal assistance to low-income people in civil matters. Part of Legal Services’ mission is to make people more aware of their legal rights and provide helpful information if they choose to pursue a legal case on their own. Awareness may allow you to resolve some problems on your own, without the need for a lawyer, or to make better use of a lawyer if you have one.

About This Manual

This manual provides basic information about how to clear (expunge) a record of arrest or conviction. In the limited circumstances where expungement is possible, the process is relatively simple and usually can be managed without the help of a lawyer. Legal Services offices often do not provide representation in such cases because their scarce resources are needed in other areas. This manual is provided in place of a lawyer. It is intended to permit people to help themselves.

A Word of Caution About Using This Manual

This manual does not give advice about a particular legal problem that you may have, and it is not a substitute for seeing a lawyer when you need one. Talk to a lawyer if you think you need the help.

The information in this manual is accurate as of March 2017, but laws often change. Please check our website, www.lsnjlaw.org, for updates to this manual, or talk to a lawyer for up-to-date legal advice.

Clearing Your Record Online

In August 2015, Legal Services of New Jersey launched Clearing Your Record Online on our website, www.lsnjlaw.org. On the site, you can use the Clearing Your Record eligibility interview to find out if your New Jersey criminal record is expungeable. If you are eligible for expungement, you can create and print forms to submit to the court. Clearing Your Record Online also includes a series of instructional videos that explain the expungement process and other resources to help you with expungement.
If You Need a Lawyer

If you are a low-income New Jersey resident, you may be eligible for legal help from a Legal Services office in your area. You can find a list of regional Legal Services programs and telephone numbers on our website, www.lsnjlaw.org. You may also be eligible for free legal advice from LSNJLAWSM, Legal Services of New Jersey’s statewide, toll-free legal hotline. You may apply online through the Hotline Web Intake form at www.lsnjlawhotline.org or call the hotline at 1-888-LSNJ-LAW (1-888-576-5529). Outside of New Jersey, please call (732) 572-9100 and ask to be transferred to the hotline. Hotline hours are Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. If you are eligible, we can help you through the expungement process. To find a private lawyer, call the lawyer referral service of your county bar association.

Introduction

A record of arrest or conviction can haunt a person forever. Applications for schools, jobs, and housing often ask if an applicant has a criminal record. Many people can solve this problem if they are eligible to clear (expunge) their criminal record.

New Jersey law provides a limited right to expungement. The primary purpose of New Jersey’s expungement law is to provide a fresh start to those who have one or very few convictions. The law also provides for the removal of records of arrests where the arrest did not end in a conviction.

The law carefully defines who is eligible to expunge a criminal record. An eligible person must prepare a Petition for Expungement and file it in the Superior Court in the county where the arrest or prosecution took place.

A judge then decides whether to issue an Expungement Order. An Expungement Order means that, with some exceptions, the criminal proceedings never happened. It allows the person to fill out school, job, and housing applications truthfully without having to reveal that he or she was once arrested or convicted.

Records Required to Be Kept Private

When an expungement is granted, law enforcement agencies are required by law to keep that person’s records private. However, the law does allow expunged records to be used later in certain cases. Should the person ever again become involved in any criminal proceedings, the records can be used. This means that, if the person is arrested following expungement, his or her past records will be considered in deciding eligibility for supervisory treatment or diversion programs, setting bail, authorizing pre-trial release, preparation of pre-sentence reports, or for sentencing. If a crime victim files a claim with the Victims of Crime Compensation Office, the expunged records of the person convicted of the crime can be used in connection with the claim. If the criminal activity or arrest results in the person being incarcerated, the Department of Corrections is allowed to use the records in deciding how to classify and assign the prisoner within an institution.

Also, following a conviction and a jail sentence, expunged records can be used in deciding eligibility for parole (early release). Further, even if you were granted an expungement, your record may still be kept in the Pretrial Intervention Registry pursuant to R. 3:28(e), and reports of your record may be filed as required under the Controlled Dangerous Substance Registry Act of 1970.
Many people want to go through the expungement process so that they can have a clear record when they apply for jobs. However, the law allows exceptions where expunged records may be considered, such as when a person applies for a job with a law enforcement agency. This includes jobs with state, county, and local corrections departments; prosecutors; courts; and police. This does not mean that those agencies will never employ people with records, but it does mean that those applying must still reveal the existence of an expunged record on a job application.

Agencies not associated with law enforcement that require information about a person’s criminal record prior to expungement (such as the Real Estate Commission or the Department of Insurance) cannot be compelled to correct their records after an Expungement Order is granted. Such agencies are beyond the reach of expungement orders and may continue to publicize such information.

The expungement procedure is fairly simple. This manual will tell you the exact steps to follow. It has been prepared to help you expunge your record if you cannot afford a lawyer. If you can afford an attorney and decide that you want him or her to take you through this process, the information in this manual may help you to decide whether or not you are eligible for an expungement. You may also visit LSNJ’s Clearing Your Record Online to find out if you are eligible to expunge your record and fill out forms online. It is available on our website, www.lsnjlaw.org.

What is N.J.S.A. 2C:52?

The laws, also referred to as “statutes,” made by the New Jersey Legislature are kept in a set of bound, green-colored volumes, called New Jersey Statutes Annotated (N.J.S.A.). These books are numbered and have “titles.” There are “chapters” in each book, and “articles” in each chapter. So N.J.S.A. 2C:52-1 means that the law on expungement can be found in N.J.S.A., title 2C, chapter 52, article 1.

Note: There are three volumes of N.J.S.A. books listed as Title 2C–Code of Criminal Justice. Besides the law on expungement, these books also contain most of New Jersey’s laws dealing with arrests, crimes, and punishment.

These laws are also available online on the New Jersey Legislature website, www.njleg.state.nj.us.
Step 1: Are You Eligible?

The answer to this basic question usually depends on the type and number of criminal records you have. The type of records means whether a conviction was for an indictable offense (generally an offense punishable by six months of jail time or more), for a disorderly persons offense (generally an offense punishable by less than six months of jail time), or for a violation of a municipal ordinance. Note that, even where an indictable offense carries a penalty of six months or more of jail time, a judge is permitted, in some cases, to sentence you to probation instead of time in prison.

If the conviction or guilty plea occurred in the Superior Court in the county in which the crime occurred, the offense was probably an indictable offense. If, on the other hand, the conviction or guilty plea occurred in a local municipal court, it was probably a disorderly persons offense or municipal ordinance violation.

Note: Motor vehicle convictions, most of which occur in municipal court, may not be expunged. This is because they are not criminal convictions, but instead are violations of the motor vehicle code. This includes driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Drug Courts and Identity Theft

Individuals who have successfully completed drug court or court-ordered rehabilitation may be eligible to expunge their entire record of arrests and convictions. In addition, individuals who were victims of identity theft may also be eligible to expunge or delete certain arrests and convictions from their record. Such individuals may not be required to file an expungement as set forth in this manual but would be required to follow the rules and procedures promulgated by the Supreme Court. Contact us for more information if you feel you may be entitled to this relief.

Expunging an Indictable Conviction

A person whose record consists of one conviction for an expungeable indictable offense may expunge the record of that conviction as long as he or she has not been convicted of more than two disorderly or petty disorderly persons offenses in New Jersey or any other state. You may file a petition for expungement in the county in which the conviction was entered and additional verified petitions for up to two convictions for any disorderly or petty disorderly persons offenses.

*Only New Jersey convictions and arrests may be expunged in New Jersey. If you want to expunge a record from another state or a conviction or arrest for a federal offense, you must contact the court system in that state or the federal court system to determine whether you may expunge that record.
Except for the circumstances outlined below, you must wait at least 10 years from the date of the most recent conviction, payment of fine, completion of probation or parole, or release from jail—whichever is later—before applying. The court may consider the nature and circumstances of any subsequent disorderly persons conviction(s) and may deny your petition if it considers the subsequent conviction(s) as a continuation of the type of unlawful activity as in the indictable conviction.

If you have been convicted of two or more indictable offenses, whether those convictions were in New Jersey or any other state, you may not expunge your criminal conviction record.

Early Pathway Expungement of Indictable Convictions

The court may grant an expungement of an indictable offense even if less than 10 years have passed from date of the conviction, payment of fine, completion of probation or parole, or release from prison—which ever is later—where:

- Less than 10 years have passed since the payment of a fine (but the waiting requirement has otherwise been met), and the court finds that the petitioner substantially complied with a court-ordered payment plan, or could not do so because of compelling circumstances (this can include the amount of the fine or fines imposed, the person’s age at the time of the offense, the person’s financial condition, and other circumstances affecting the ability to pay); or

- At least five years have passed since the date of conviction, payment of fine, completion of probation or parole, or release from incarceration—whichever is later; the petitioner has had no further convictions for an indictable offense, disorderly persons or petty disorderly persons offense, and the court finds that expungement is in the “public interest” giving due consideration to the nature of the offense and the applicant’s character and conduct since the conviction.

Convictions That Cannot Be Expunged

- Criminal homicide (except death by auto as specified in N.J.S.A. 2C:11-5)
- Kidnapping
- Human trafficking
- Luring or enticing
- Sexual assault or aggravated sexual assault
Step 1: Are You Eligible?

- Aggravated criminal sexual contact
- Criminal sexual contact (if the victim is a minor)
- Criminal restraint or false imprisonment (if the victim is a minor and the offender is not the parent of the victim)
- Robbery
- Arson and related offenses
- Terrorism
- Producing or possessing chemical weapons, biological agents, or nuclear or radiological devices
- Endangering the welfare of a child by engaging in sexual conduct that would impair or debauch the morals of the child or cause the child other harm
- Photographing or filming a child in a prohibited sexual act
- Causing or permitting a child to engage in a prohibited sexual act
- Distributing, possessing with the intent to distribute, or using a file-sharing program to store items depicting the sexual exploitation or abuse of a child
- Possessing or viewing items depicting the sexual exploitation or abuse of a child
- Knowingly promoting the prostitution of the actor’s child
- Perjury
- False swearing
- Conspiracies or attempt to commit such crimes.

Also, certain additional crimes, if committed prior to September 1, 1979, cannot be expunged:

- Manslaughter
- Treason
- Anarchy
- Rape or forcible sodomy
- Embracery
• Conspiracies or attempts to commit any of the foregoing; or aiding, assisting, or concealing persons accused of the foregoing crimes.

Controlled Dangerous Substances

Convictions for the sale or distribution of a controlled dangerous substance or possession with the intent to sell cannot be expunged, except in cases where the crimes involve:

• Marijuana, where the total quantity sold, distributed, or possessed with intent to sell was 25 grams or less; or
• Hashish, where the total quantity sold, distributed, or possessed with intent to sell was 5 grams or less.

In addition, convictions for third or fourth degree crimes involving sale or distribution or possession with intent to sell a controlled dangerous substance may be expunged where the court finds expungement is in the public interest, considering the nature of the offense and the character and conduct of the petitioner since the conviction. In such cases, the court must also consider whether the need for availability of the records outweighs the desirability of granting the expungement.

Abuse of Public Office

Any crime committed by a person holding any public office, or conspiracy or attempt to commit such a crime, cannot be expunged if the crime involved or touched such office.

Expunging a Disorderly Persons Conviction

An individual whose record consists of one to three disorderly or petty disorderly persons convictions may expunge their criminal record as long as they have not been convicted of an indictable offense in New Jersey or any other state. If you were convicted of an indictable offense, you may be able to expunge up to two disorderly persons convictions. If you have been convicted of four or more disorderly or petty disorderly persons offenses, or more than one indictable offense, you may not expunge your conviction record. Before applying to expunge a record consisting of three or fewer petty disorderly or disorderly persons convictions, you must wait five years from the date of the conviction, payment of the fine, completion of probation or parole, or release from jail—whichever is later.

Early Pathway Expungement of Disorderly Persons Convictions

The court may grant an expungement of a disorderly persons offense even if less than five years have passed per the above section where:
Less than five years have passed since the payment of a fine (but the waiting requirement has otherwise been met), and the court finds that the petitioner substantially complied with a court-ordered payment plan, or could not do so because of compelling circumstances (this can include the amount of the fine imposed, the person’s age at the time of the offense, the person’s financial condition, and other circumstances affecting the ability to pay); or

At least three years have passed since the date of the most recent conviction, payment of fine, completion of probation or parole, or release from incarceration—whichever is later; the petitioner has had no further convictions for an indictable offense, disorderly persons, or petty disorderly persons offense, and the court finds that expungement is in the public interest giving due consideration to the nature of the offense and the applicant’s character and conduct since the conviction.

Expunging a Municipal Ordinance Violation
Municipal courts also hear cases involving violations of municipal ordinances (town laws). If the conviction was for a violation of a municipal ordinance, the sentence could not have been for more than 90 days or a $200 fine. Some examples of actions not allowed by municipal ordinances include littering, obscenity, curfew violations, unleashed pets, and loud radios.

A record of municipal ordinance violations may be expunged unless the individual was convicted of a prior or subsequent indictable offense in New Jersey or any other state, or if convicted of a disorderly or petty disorderly persons offense on more than two occasions. The waiting period is two years from the date of conviction, payment of fine, satisfactory completion of probation, or release from jail—whichever is later.

Young Drug Offenders Get Special Consideration for Certain Convictions
A person who was 21 or younger at the time of the offense of possessing a controlled dangerous substance, or of selling, distributing, or possessing marijuana or hashish with the intent to sell it, may be eligible to apply for expungement one year after the conviction if:

- The conviction was for possession of a controlled dangerous substance; or
- The total amount of the marijuana sold, distributed, or possessed with intent to sell was 25 grams or less; or
The total amount of hashish sold, distributed, or possessed with intent to sell was 5 grams or less.

To be eligible, the following things must be true:

- You did not violate any conditions of your parole or probation after discharge;
- You were not convicted of any previous or subsequent crime or drug offense; and
- You did not have a prior criminal matter dismissed because of acceptance into a supervisory treatment or other diversion program.

Crimes That Occurred at the Same Time

In certain limited cases, the court may count convictions for conduct that occurred at the same time as one indictable or one disorderly persons offense. For example, if your criminal record contains several convictions with the same offense date, the court may consider whether the crimes occurred at the same time and so may be considered one “offense.” If they are determined to be a part of the same offense, they may be counted as only one conviction. However, if the crimes or offenses were committed on separate occasions, they will be counted as separate convictions.

Expunging a Juvenile Record

If you were adjudged a juvenile delinquent, you may expunge your record in one of two ways.

First, you may expunge your adjudications “as if” they were an adult record. For example, if you were charged with an indictable offense as a juvenile, you may expunge it if you meet the requirements of expunging an adult indictable conviction. This same rule would apply to disorderly persons offenses (See Expunging a Disorderly Persons Offense, above) and municipal ordinance violations (See Expunging a Municipal Ordinance Violation, above).

Second, and most important, you may expunge an entire record of juvenile delinquency adjudications if all of the following are true:

- Five years have elapsed since your final discharge from legal custody or supervision, or five years have elapsed after the entry of any other court order not involving custody or supervision (not counting periods of post-incarceration supervision);
Step 1: Are You Eligible?

- You have not been convicted of a crime, or a disorderly or petty disorderly persons offense, or adjudged a delinquent, or in need of supervision, during the five years prior to the filing of your petition, and no proceeding or complaint is pending seeking such a conviction or adjudication, (again, not counting any period of post-incarceration supervision);
- You were never adjudged a juvenile delinquent for a non-expungeable offense (See Convictions That Cannot Be Expunged, above);
- You never had an adult conviction expunged; and
- You never had adult indictable charges dismissed following completion of a supervisory treatment or other diversion program.

If you were taken into custody as a juvenile and the matter did not lead to adjudication of delinquency, you are eligible to expunge the matter “as if” you are expunging an adult arrest which did not lead to conviction (See Expunging an Arrest Record, below).

Expunging an Arrest Record

Many people believe that if they were arrested or taken into custody but not convicted (either because they were found not guilty or because the charges were dismissed), their record remains clean. However, this is not true. In fact, a record of an arrest may cause as many problems as one indicating a conviction. It is, therefore, as important to expunge an arrest record as it is to expunge the record of a conviction.

If you were arrested for any offense but not convicted (either found not guilty or the charges were dismissed), you are eligible for an expungement, with two exceptions. If the dismissal, acquittal, or discharge resulted from a plea bargaining agreement in which you agreed to a conviction on other charges, that conviction must be expunged before the arrest record of the dismissed charges can be expunged. Example: John was charged with harassment and simple assault, both disorderly persons offenses. In court, John agreed to plead guilty to the assault charge in exchange for the harassment charge being dropped. As a result, John was never convicted of harassment, but the arrest for harassment still exists. For the harassment arrest to be expunged, he would first have to expunge the assault conviction, and he could then expunge the record of the arrest on the harassment charge.
If you were found not guilty by reason of insanity, expungement is not permitted at all.

The expungement of arrests not leading to conviction is now handled by the court under procedures it has established. If your arrest records were not expunged through the court’s application procedures, however, you may file a petition using the process set forth in this manual. There is no fee to expunge charges that did not lead to conviction.

Pretrial Intervention, Supervisory Treatment, Conditional Discharge, and Other Diversion Programs

If your charges were dismissed pursuant to a program of supervisory treatment, conditional discharge, or conditional dismissal, you will still have an arrest record that can be expunged like any other arrest record. (See Expunging an Arrest Record, above.)

If your charges were dismissed after you completed a supervisory treatment program (such as PTI), conditional dismissal, or conditional discharge, you will be barred from relief until six months after the order of dismissal.

Note: If you have been granted a dismissal of indictable charges following completion of a supervisory treatment or other diversion program, such as PTI, you will not be eligible to expunge any indictable, disorderly persons, or petty disorderly persons convictions.

Objections to your Expungement

The prosecutor or another party might object to your expungement if you do not meet the statutory guidelines for an expungement or the need for the availability of your criminal record outweighs the desirability of expunging your record. If the court agrees, your expungement will be denied. If there is only a problem with the form of your application, you will be notified. In many cases, you will be given a chance to file an amended application with corrected or additional information.

Other Requirements Before You Can File a Petition for Expungement

You must not have any charges pending or otherwise still open when you file a Petition for Expungement, and you must certify to that on your Petition. Also, you must certify that you have never been granted an expungement of an indictable offense in New Jersey or in any other state. And finally, if your case has been dismissed as a result of completion of a supervisory treatment or other diversion program, you must indicate the nature of the original charge, the court of disposition, and the date of disposition.

Do You Have an Out-of-State Criminal Record?
The state of New Jersey cannot expunge a criminal record from another state. Convictions from another state, however, are counted toward the number of convictions that are allowed for expungement of a criminal record under New Jersey law. For this reason, out-of-state convictions must be listed in the petition for expungement. The criminal record from another state will count as an indictable offense if the elements of the crime committed are similar to the elements of an indictable offense in New Jersey. Similarly, the out-of-state conviction will be treated as a disorderly persons charge if the elements of the charge are similar to the elements of a New Jersey disorderly persons charge.

Step 2: Locate Your Records
In order to prepare your expungement petition and prove your eligibility, you will need to get the following information:

- The date of your arrest;
- The statute(s) and the offense(s) for which you were arrested or convicted (note that, if the offenses were reduced from the original charges, these will be different);
- The original indictment, summons(es), or complaint(s)/docket number(s);
- The date of the conviction or the date the charges were dismissed if you were found not guilty (also called “date of disposition if no conviction resulted” in the statute); and
- The court’s disposition of the matter and the specific punishment imposed, if any, including the dates any fines were paid and when you completed probation or parole, if any imposed.

Get any of the above information that you are missing.

If you had an attorney when you were arrested and charged, check first to see if he or she has this information in your case file. If so, this can save you time.
If you must locate your records on your own for an indictable/criminal conviction or arrest, contact the Criminal Case Management Office in the county where the arrest or conviction occurred, and take some personal identification, such as a driver’s license or a birth certificate. For juvenile records, you will need to contact the Family Court in the county where your matter was heard. You might also contact the county prosecutor and explain that you are interested in expunging your records and ask for the information listed above, or ask to look at your file if this is permitted. You may also be able to find information you need on disorderly persons offenses by contacting the clerk of the municipal court(s) in which you were prosecuted or the police department involved in your arrest(s).

If your case was heard in the Superior Court and a conviction was entered, much of the information you need will be contained in a document called a Judgment of Conviction or “JOC.” In the Municipal Court, this document is called a "disposition."

If you cannot get all of the information you need, you will have to get a copy of your criminal record from the New Jersey State Police. See instructions for obtaining your criminal history record on page 21. You can also find the instructions and the form you will need to fill out on the New Jersey State Police website, www.njsp.org/criminal-history-records/index.shtml.

Note: The State Police will only have a rap sheet if you were fingerprinted when you were arrested. If you were not fingerprinted, and only a complaint was signed against you when you were arrested, you will still have a record of the arrest to expunge at the police department, but you will not have a rap sheet within the Division of State Police, State Bureau of Investigation.

Step 3: Complete the Forms

If you have access to a computer and printer, you can fill out the required forms on our website, www.lsnjlaw.org. Otherwise, you can print the forms and complete them by hand. The Petition for Expungement states that you are requesting an Expungement Order and states why you qualify. Print a copy of Form 1 in this guide for each arrest and fill in the blanks.

Fill in your name, address, and telephone number at the top left-hand side of the form. At the top right-hand side, enter the name of the county in which you will be filing the Petition for Expungement. You must file the petition in the county where the indictable conviction was entered. If you were not convicted of an indictable offense, you must file in the county of your most recent offense. Leave the space above “Docket No.” blank. The court clerk will give you a docket number and will fill in the blank. Where it states “In the Matter of the Expungement of the Criminal Records of ______,” put your full name.

Then, where it states, “I, ______,” fill in your name, and where it states “residing at ______,” enter your current address. Put your date of birth in paragraph 1. In paragraph 2, enter the date on which you were arrested or taken into custody and the town in which the arrest occurred. Then fill in the name of the offense you were charged with and give the New Jersey statute under which you were arrested. If you were charged with multiple offenses, list each offense separated by a semi-colon. Then list each corresponding statute in the space provided, also separated by a semi-colon.

Fill in the original indictment, summons, or complaint number(s) in paragraph 3.

If the charge against you was dismissed, fill in paragraph 4. (If the charge against you was not dismissed, cross out paragraph 4 and go to paragraph 5.) Fill in the date on which the charge was dismissed, the name of the charge that was dismissed, and the name of the court that dismissed the charge—for example, Superior Court of New Jersey, Ocean County, or Municipal Court of the Township of Edison. If you did not participate in a conditional discharge, conditional dismissal, or pretrial intervention program, cross out “after a conditional discharge, conditional dismissal, or after the pretrial intervention program was completed.”

If you were convicted or adjudicated delinquent of the charges, fill in paragraph 5. Fill in the date on which you were convicted or adjudicated delinquent, the name of the offense, and the statute. (Remember, this is the statute under which you were convicted or adjudicated delinquent, not necessarily the statute under which you were arrested.) You also must indicate what the sentence was. For example, the sentence could have been jail/prison time, a fine, restitution, probation or parole, or a combination of these. You should indicate the date on which you were released from prison, the date the fine was paid, and/or the date on which probation or parole was completed in the spaces provided.

If you are trying to expunge more than three adjudications, convictions, or arrests, you will need to fill out additional Form 1 forms. Remember, you must disclose all of your arrests on your expungement petition.

Sign and print your name at the bottom of page 4 where indicated.
Note: Make sure that you fill in or cross out all of the blanks on Form 1, including your date of birth.

You must also complete the verification on page 5 of the petition, indicating that there are no disorderly persons, petty disorderly persons, or criminal charges pending against you. If you are seeking expungement of a conviction of an indictable offense, you must also include an affidavit that you have never been granted expungement, sealing (the prior name for expungement in New Jersey), or other relief regarding a criminal conviction. If you are not seeking expungement of an indictable conviction, cross out paragraph 3 of the verification. The verification must be notarized.

If you are filing for an “early pathway” expungement, you must complete either the Certification in Further Support of Petitioner’s Expungement Application (Modified Payment of Fine) (Form 8), or the Certification in Further Support of Petitioner’s Expungement Application (Public Interest) (Form 9), whichever is applicable. Fill in your name, contact information, and criminal charge information the same as in your Petition for Expungement. Check the appropriate box depending on whether you were convicted of an indictable offense or a disorderly persons offense.

In Paragraph 11 of the Certification in Further Support of Petitioner’s Expungement Application (Modified Payment of Fine), you must explain why the court should excuse the fact that you were unable to pay the fine within the normal time period. You should also attach any relevant documents, as indicated, as exhibits after the appropriate Exhibit pages at the back of the Certification.

In Paragraph 4 of the Certification in Further Support or Petitioner’s Expungement Application (Public Interest), you must attach court documents related to your criminal conviction, including pre-sentence reports, judgments of conviction, and plea and sentencing transcripts, if they are available. You can obtain these documents from the Superior Court where you were convicted.

In Paragraph 11, you must list evidence of your positive and/or rehabilitated character and conduct since the conviction and then attach copies (Exhibit C) at the back of your Certification.

Note: If you were convicted for the sale or distribution of CDS or possession with the intent to sell in the third or fourth degree, you must also complete the Certification in Further Support of Petitioner’s Expungement Application (Public Interest).
Next, fill out the Order for Hearing (Form 2). The Order for Hearing is used by the judge to schedule a hearing. The Superior Court judge assigned to your case is required to schedule a hearing between 35 and 60 days after he or she gets your petition. Fill in your name and address at the upper left-hand corner. Indicate the county in which you will be filing your petition. Again, the clerk will fill in the docket number, so leave that space blank. Where it states “In the Matter of the Expungement of the Criminal Records of _________,” put your name. Fill in your name in the first space after “This matter having been opened to the Court upon the annexed Petition of _________.” Also, fill in the blanks at the bottom of the page where it asks for the prosecutor of the county where you were arrested or taken into custody, the chief of the police department of the town where you were arrested or taken into custody, and the magistrate of the town municipal court where you were arrested or taken into custody. If you were incarcerated, fill in the name of the prison warden/administrator. If you were not incarcerated, you may leave this blank. The judge will sign the order, so leave the next space blank.

Fill out the Expungement Order (Form 3). At the top left-hand corner, put your name and address, and at the top right-hand side, indicate the county in which you will be filing your petition. Leave the space above “Docket No.” blank.

Next, in the first line of the Expungement Order, after “Verified Petition of,” enter your name, then your address. Leave the next three spaces blank, and after “the Clerk(s) of the _________ Municipal Court(s)” and “Chief(s) of the _________ Police Department(s),” fill in the name of the town in which you were arrested. If you were arrested in more than one town, enter the names of all of the towns. Then, enter the county of the prosecutor(s) in the county or counties where you were arrested. Enter your name in the next blank. In the last spaces on the first page of Form 3, enter the dates you were arrested and the statute(s) under which you were arrested. Leave the signature line on the second page blank. The judge will sign the order.

Step 4: File and Serve the Forms

Next, make three copies of your notarized Petition for Expungement (Form 1), Order for Hearing (Form 2), proposed Expungement Order (Form 3) and any accompanying certifications (Form 8, Form 9), if necessary. Deliver or mail the originals and two of the photocopies (keep one copy of each for your records), two self-addressed, stamped envelopes, and the cover letter (Form 4) to the Criminal Case Management Office in the county where the arrest, custody, and/or prosecution occurred. See page 24 for a list of the county offices where forms should be mailed, along with telephone numbers.

There is a filing fee of $75. You should include a money order or certified check. Please see page 24 for the list of County Criminal Case Management Offices for the proper way to make out the check or money order.

If you are unable to pay the filing fee, you may apply to have the fee waived. You may request a fee waiver from the county court or locate the form on the NJ Courts website, www.njcourtsonline.com. Click on the Self-Help Center link at the top of the page and scroll down to find the Filing Fee Waiver Request. You will have to fill in the required information and attach any requested documents. Sign and submit with your expungement application.

One copy of the Petition for Expungement, Order for Hearing, Proposed Expungement Order, and any accompanying certifications will be mailed back to you marked “Filed” and with a docket number. The Order for Hearing will also state the time and the date for your hearing. Immediately after receiving the filed copies from the court, make enough copies so you may serve a copy on each required party.

After you receive a filed copy of your documents from the clerk, mail one copy of each, immediately, via certified mail, return receipt requested, to each of the following:

☑ The Attorney General
☑ The Superintendent of State Police, Expungement Unit
☑ The county prosecutor
☑ The magistrate or the court clerk of the municipal court if the matter was heard by a municipal court
☑ The chief of police or other head of the police department where the offense was committed or the arrest was made
☑ The chief law enforcement officer of any other New Jersey law enforcement agency that participated in the arrest
☑ The warden/administrator of any institution in which you were incarcerated, if applicable
For State Grand Jury cases: Division of Criminal Justice, Attention: Records and Identification, 25 Market Street, P.O. Box 085, Trenton, New Jersey 08625

For conditional discharge, conditional dismissal, and pretrial intervention, the county probation department.

You may use the cover letter (Form 5) when mailing to these agencies.

Mail the copies of these forms right away, as the statute mandates service or mailing within five days from the date of the order. Mail them at the post office, by certified mail, return receipt requested.

After you have received the certified mail return receipt cards back from the post office, contact the Criminal Case Management Office in the Superior Court, and ask the clerk whether the court requires that the proof of mailing be submitted at or prior to the hearing. If the proof of mailing is required to be submitted prior to the hearing, submit the certified mail receipts and the Proof of Notice (Form 6) pursuant to the clerk’s instructions. If proof is required to be produced at the hearing, make sure that you take the green certified mail return receipt cards and the Proof of Notice to court with you on the day of the hearing.

The Proof of Notice should be filled out like the other forms, with your name and address at the left-hand corner, and the county in which you filed the action filled in on the right. Indicate the docket number in the space provided, and fill in your name in the space at “In the Matter of the Expungement of the Criminal Records of ________.” In the spaces provided in the Proof of Notice, fill in the name of each agency to which you mailed a copy of your expungement documents.

Step 5: Go to the Hearing

Get to the court on your assigned hearing date about 15 minutes early. (Not all counties require an appearance. If an appearance is not required, you must mail the green return receipt cards to the place where you filed your petition, at least one week before the scheduled hearing.) Take your expungement documents and the green return receipt cards to the hearing (unless you previously filed them with the court) and, when you arrive, inform the court clerk that you are there. Any law enforcement officers objecting to the expungement will tell the judge the reason. The judge may ask you some questions and will decide whether to grant or deny you an expungement. If there is no opposition, the judge will, in most cases, grant your expungement.

If no law enforcement officers object to the expungement, the court may grant the order without a hearing. If this happens, you will receive a signed and filed Expungement Order in the mail.

It’s always a good practice to call the court the day before the hearing to confirm that it is still on the court’s calendar.

Step 6: Serve the Expungement Order

Immediately after you receive a copy of the Expungement Order signed by the judge and stamped “Filed” by the court, mail one copy of the Expungement Order, by certified mail, return receipt requested, to each of the following:

- The Attorney General
- The Superintendent of State Police, Expungement Unit
- The county prosecutor
- The magistrate or the court clerk of the municipal court if the matter was heard by a municipal court
- The chief of police or other head of the police department where the offense was committed or the arrest was made
- The chief law enforcement officer of any other New Jersey law enforcement agency that participated in the arrest
- The records division of any institution in which you were incarcerated
- The identification bureau in the county where the arrest was made or where you were incarcerated (see page 25)
- The warden/administrator of any institution in which you were incarcerated
- For State Grand Jury cases: Division of Criminal Justice, Attention: Records and Identification, 25 Market Street, P.O. Box 085, Trenton, New Jersey 08625
For conditional discharge, conditional dismissal, and pretrial intervention, the county probation department.

You may use the cover letter (Form 7) when mailing to these agencies.

Keep the mailing receipts and the green cards that are returned to you as proof that the documents were received. You are now entitled by law to answer any question on job applications, school applications, credit applications, military service applications, etc., as if the arrest and/or conviction never occurred. Remember, however, that if any law enforcement officer asks you about previous arrests or convictions, you must tell him or her that you have an expunged record, and you must tell him or her what the record was. Keep a copy of the Expungement Order in a safe place.

How to Get Your Criminal History Record from the New Jersey State Police

The Division of State Police, Criminal Information Unit (CIU) provides fingerprint-based criminal history background checks to anyone who requests a copy of his or her record. The New Jersey State Police use the live scan fingerprinting services provided by IdentoGO, a private company under contract with the state of New Jersey. In order to be fingerprinted for expungement purposes, you must contact IdentoGO to schedule a time and place to have your fingerprints recorded at one of their approved sites. The quickest and easiest way to schedule your appointment is via their website, https://nj.ibtfingerprint.com. If you do not have Internet access, call IdentoGO, toll-free, at 1-877-503-5981 (Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and Saturday, 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon). A toll-free TTY telephone number, 1-800-673-0353, is available for hearing-impaired applicants with a modem-equipped telephone. Spanish-speaking operators are available upon request.

You must fill out New Jersey Universal Fingerprint Form IDG_NJAPP_110113, which you can download from the State Police website (Form A), www.njsp.org/info/pdf/20150129_universforma.pdf. Bring the form and proper identification with you to your scheduled fingerprint appointment. The ID must be issued by a federal, state, county, or municipal body for identification purposes. It must include your photograph, name, home address, and date of birth. Acceptable identification includes a passport or a valid photo driver’s license or photo ID issued by New Jersey’s or any state’s MVC or DMV. The home address you enter on the form should be the same as the home address printed on your identification. Make sure your address is complete and accurate so that the State Police can mail you the results of your criminal history background check.

The fee is $40.70. You may pay by credit card, electronic debt check, or money order. Payment will be charged to your account when you schedule your appointment. Information about cancellations is printed on the form.

If you have any questions about the form, contact the New Jersey State Police, Criminal Information Unit, at (609) 882-2000, ext. 2918.

Conclusion

As a final reminder, make sure that you have completely followed all of the steps required in this guide. This is very important because, even though you may be eligible, if you have missed any of the required steps, your Petition for Expungement may be denied. In that case, you will have to start over.

We have tried to explain as simply as possible the steps to get your records expunged. Please contact us at publications@lsnj.org if you have any suggestions about how this guide can be improved. You can find additional resources for expungement on our website, www.lsnjlaw.org.
Common Frequently Asked Questions

Q: I already went through the IdentoGO fingerprint process with a previous employer. Do I need to go through the entire process again to get my records?
A: Yes. You must obtain a separate criminal record report, which will be used solely for expungement purposes.

Q: I have a conviction for a non-expungeable offense (for example, robbery) and an indictable offense. Can I expunge?
A: No. The non-expungeable conviction still would count as an indictable conviction. This means that you have two indictable convictions and cannot expunge either conviction.

Q: I have convictions for an indictable offense and two disorderly persons offenses. Can I expunge both?
A: Yes. As long as the indictable offense is not a non-expungeable offense and you have met the required waiting period, both your indictable conviction and disorderly persons convictions are expungeable in the same application.

Q: Will my out-of-state convictions affect whether I am eligible to expunge my record?
A: Yes. Therefore, you must fully disclose your criminal record in the expungement petition, including out-of-state arrests and convictions.

Q: Can I use my petition to expunge a conviction from another state?
A: No. You may only expunge your arrests and convictions in New Jersey.

Q: Years ago, I expunged two disorderly persons offenses from my record. Can I now expunge another disorderly persons conviction?
A: Yes. You are permitted to expunge up to three disorderly persons convictions from your record. You may do this in one or more petitions for expungement, provided you meet all other statutory requirements.

Q: I need to have my petition notarized. What should I do if I can’t find a notary public?
A: Ask around. Someone you already know may be a notary public or may know how to locate one. Attorneys licensed to practice law in the State of New Jersey are also allowed to notarize documents.
